Charlie Marshall Writes Letter From The Front

October 10th, 1915

Dear Brother Jack:

Received your letter the other night while in the trenches, and believe me I was sure glad to hear from you.

I am back in billets just now for a little rest, so am taking this opportunity to do my writing now.

Well Jack, I am doing the best I can, and so far, if it was a case of an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth I should be dead several times as it is I have had a couple of narrow escapes. I wish there was a telescope invented so that you could look right from there down on the battlefield, you would see some sight. The day time is generally pretty quiet, but at night as far as you can see to right and left of you, the big star shells are going up like rockets to light up the trenches so as to see to shoot. Also to see that no bombing party is sliping up to your trenches, -We are as close as forty yards apart in places, so that you can imagine the strain on a man's nerves, watching out for rifle grenades and hand bombs, trench mortars and machine gun fire, not to speak of the rifle fire and the big sharpnell shells and high explosives the latter will hit a parapet and blow it clear over you and bury They also dig under ground and mine under your trench to blow you up. The night we moved out I nearly got a builet through me, I had just moved a little to one side, when a steel bullet split the sand bag and buried itself in the back of the trench where I was

Talk about nerve, old time battles one reads about, are nothing compared to this.

I would like to send you'out some souvenirs, but it is almost imam sending you a copy of Listening Post", it is a paper published by the 7th battalion and printed in a place where they are liable to be hit by a shell any old time. You will notice it is printed in the interest of the "Tom my's," and that most the new is peculiarly local. The paper is printed twice a month.

Hoping this finds you all in a good health as myself and with kind regards to my old friends in Gleichen, I remain with love,

Your affectionate brother, CHARLIE.

Another Soldier's Letter By Tommy Woodland

October, 8th, 191

Dear Mr. Evans

Just a few lines to let you know that I am getting on splendid up to now, also my cousin Frank. Just finished reading the CALL, we are always glad to get them and always enjoy reading the news of Gleichen and district.

We are now having a few days rest out of the trenches. I think Charlie Marshall is quite near us, but I have not seen him yet. Bert Wood's is looking up fine, we were with him yesterday. Bobbie Forbes is also in good health and wishes to be remembered to all at Gleichen. We met Geo. Conford and Geo. Moss while in England and we sure had a good time toing it to you. It is hard to get gether believe me, in fact it put me any souvenirs out, but I am sure in mind of the song, "It's nice to meet a pal from your own home tain of the Y. M. C. A. is going on town," at least we thought so.

My young brother Sid tried to enlist last week, but failed to pass the test, but he has offered his services for munition works so he will and myself are named by the boys, "The Twins", because we are always together on duty or off, they say they can hardly tell us apart. Can't say anymore this time, best Yours sincerely.

T. WOODLAND.

During the month of October 7,887,120 pounds of grain was shipped from Gleichen, or over 131,350 bushels, last Thursday from Ott wa officipossible to get them through. I according to the local freight agent, and the indications are ally announced that his son Frank that this month will exceed last month's.

During the past week 34 carloads of grain have been shipped and 30 more are on the order book. The total ceived from him stating he was in shipped for the season is 144 cars, but to this should be added three more from Stobart for the week, making seven from that point-a grand total of 151 billed from Gleichen.

The rounds of the elevators yesterday morning showthat the total received for the week was 63,872 bushels of grain devided into 51,193 of wheat, 12,209 of oats and 570 of barley. Thus the total for the season is 298,199.

Naturally there is some rivalry among the elevator men to secure business although they are not extensively advertising their particular advantages or methods. This week the Farmers elvator headed the list of receipts with 31,671 bushels, the Alberta Pacific following with 16,101, the Pioneer 14,000 and the Imperial 2,500.

The weather has been almost ideal for threshing operations, although the high winds interfered at times. Grain hauling has been steady but mostly straight from the separators, most of those having sufficient granaries preferring to hold for an advance in the market.

Private Frank Vigar Wounded by Shrapnell

A cable received by F. C. Vigar had been wounded in the thigh and on Tuesday a letter was rethe hospital doing nicely. The particulars in the letter are very meagre but it seems that he was struck in the thigh by sharpnell and that the same piece passed through and struck another comrade in the leg where it lodged. He states it will be sometime before he will be out of the hospital and that his cousin, Tommy Woodland, was quite upset over the incident, he was close by at the time and was was sure Frank had been killed. Frank says that he would very much like to have the piece of sharpnell as a souvenir but believes his wounded comrade also wants it and naturally and rightfully has possession of it.

Frank left here with the 31st Battalion and up to the time he left for the front was the only boy

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1915

The Department of Agriculture of Alberta estimates that at the present time threshing mills in the province are turning out three million bushels daily. The department's records show that there are 500 more threshing machines in operation this year than last.

Some controversy has started in various places over threshing operations being conducted on Sunday. Parties engaging in this kind of work without permission from the attorney-general's department, are liable to prosecution under the Lord's Day Act. It is said that in England the rector of Thornham Magna, in Suffield, first conducts a brief Sunday service in the field and then lends a hand at the work. If he came west he could teach us some things.

Gleichen farmers and townspeople should now take up earnestly the establishment of an agricultural school here as the Legislature is considering the necessity of the fourth one in this province. We are well situated for a school of this kind and can supply the land and water required to teach both dry farming and irrigated farming. It would be of great advantage to the farmers boys and girls nearby who could drive to and from it daily and reside at home. As there are no boarding houses attached to these schools private homes would supply this, thus making this a residential town and bringing more business to our tradesmen. Talk about and work for it.

It is a truism that war is a ruinous and destructive operation. It is one thing, however, to give mental assent to that proposition. It is quite another to feel it in every nerve and fibre of your being and to let your giving to the Red Cross funds be dictated by that intense emotional consciousness as if war's destructiveness were visible in your own town. It is difficult to form a sane estimate of the probable casualties of the present war. It is known, however, that the British casualities have exceeded 250,000. That is at a reasonable estimate more than ten per cent of the forces engaged at the front. Think of what three or four hundred thousand sick and wounded means. Just magine the entire population of one of our largest cities occupying each one a bed in some gigantic hospital. The thing staggers the imagination. And yet such a condition is not far from a reality at present.

"Not only are business conditions reviving in the western Canada country, but the next short period will see such an increase in trade conditions, bank clearings, etc. that people shall be astonished at the change." This statement was made by a prominent banker, who wished his name withheld following the policy of banks, in avoiding publicity.

"Figure yourself for a moment", he continued." We have close to a hundred million dollar crop in Alberta alone. That of course includes the products of livestock, poultry, eggs, etc., as well as grains and vegetables, but the main thing is that it is a wonderful crop for a province with the population of this one. These things will all be bought and paid for this fall and winter. The money is bound to change business conditions quickly when once the big bulk of the grain starts eastward and the farmer gets time from his labor to make his adjustments. That will not be long now, with a continuance of this weather which permits threshing to go ahead so rapidly.

"And when the bank clearings get up to record figures and the small town merchants are doing well the cities are just as bound to reflect the improvement as that night follows day. And I believe that that period is at hand. Another important factor will be the shortage of labor when things once more get good. I venture to say that there will not be half enough men when things get to humming again.

"All in all the basic conditions are such that we should now be crowing over the revival. If the merchants get tog her and boost and advertise things will come back to the olden boom days before long. Of course there shall always be a certain amount of conservatism while the war is on in some lines, but we can have mighty good times for all of that".

as their main industry because they do not feel able to wait the several years necessary before a herd of stock can be built up. To assist farmers in this predicament, and also incidentally to assist themselves through improved business conditions, business men at certain points have organized to raise capital for the purchase of livestock, which is advanced to farmers with an opportunity to pay it back out of the proceeds. At Lethbridge, the organization has now placed 77 animals with settlers in that district, and the results show that farmers who took advantage of this opportunity are now making good money from the milg, cream, and natural increase which they are able to market. Their payments are being met regularly, and the livestock industry is being placed on a sound footing in the district.

Dealers Are Stocking Up

Commercial travellers whose business brings them in very close touch with trade conditions throughout the country report that the assurance of Western Canada's big crop this year has already resulted in a great improvement of business in the country towns. Dealers, as a rule, had allowed their stocks to fall to the lowest margins, but now, with a crop assured, they are ordering heavily. This means not only more business in the country towns, but greater prosperity for the manufacturer and wholesater, and increased activity in transportation circles. The effect is not felt so quickly in the larger centres as in the little towns, but it is already noticeable even in the principal cities.

While the greatest secrecy is maintained the United States has information concerning the methods which has been employed. A submarine telephone has been developed by which it is possible to detect the approach of a submarine by sound from observation boats or stations planted off shore connected with points on the mainland.

Huge nets have been stretched across the channels through which the submarines may be expected to pass and in open waters, near steamship lanes or in the vicinity of warships, which runs through the body of the terpedo.

When the air torpedo, after flying through ihe air, hovers immediately over the selected target it is made to assume a vertical position, the lifting horizontal screws and propellers are stopped, and the torpedo dives to the ground, carrying a large quantity of high explosive charge at its nose. The charge explodes on contact like an ordinary shell, and it is said that in two torpedoes there is sufficient explosive force to destroy the Tower of London. Originally, these air torpedoes were destined to be carried exclusively by Originally, these air torpedoes were destined to be carried exclusively by Zeppelins, but owing to certain improvements it has now been found they can be manipulated from warships. According to information, Germany purposes to use torpedoes of the air against the British fleet, and for that purpose small, swift craft, armed only with aerial torpedoes, are building or have aiready been built.

Birds Still Outfly Men

Mr. Hawker has just broken a record by flying to a height of 20,000 feet, and one looks round for a standard with which to compare the feat. The average English bird does not as a rule go above 300 feet, and even when nigrating he sticks nearer a thousand than two. A flight of wild geese sometimes reaches 2,000 feet, but not invariably. But no aviator has yet outdistanced the highest birds, for the great condor of the Andes is able to attain a height of 27,000 feet.—London Chronicle.

New Air Weapon What Prohibition Would Do

An Old Country Opinion as to the Germans Are Perfecting a New Aerial Engine

The aerial tropedo invented by a Swedish officer and sold to Kruppys may have been the basis of Germany's new air weapon, but certainly it is not the finished article. The Swedish invention resembles a luge shell fitted with a turbine engine driven by gas pressure; the German air torpedo is more like an airship fitted with propellers driven by electricity and controlled from a Zeppelin by wireless. The German aerial torpedo can, theoretically, remain in the air for three hours, and can be controlled from distance of two miles. Both weapons are discharged from a tabe like a marine torpedo, but in the case of the German invention two propellers and two lifting screws are automatically started at the moment of discharge. In shape, this torpedo of the air, which is about seven feet long, resembles the submarine weapon. It is composed of two cases, the outer of thin chrome nickel and the inner of material similar to that used in Zeppelins. About one-sixth of the space at the rear is occupied by an electric motor generator secured to the top. The machinery is controlled by Hertzian waves acting on the Telefunken system of wireless, and it is claimed that up to a distance of two miles the air torpedo can be steered at will.

The air torpedo is inflated with water gas and compressed gas, but as it is heavier than the air, white the motive power is supplied by propellers. Both screws and propellers are connected with the same shaft, which runs through the body of the terpedo.

When the air torpedo after flying When the air, twoight the motive power is supplied by propellers. Both screws and propellers are connected with the same shaft, which runs through the body of the terpedo.

Inquiries From Allies For Blankets,

Overcoats, Etc.

Inquiries are being made by the different nations of the allies, about the possibility of getting clothing, blankets, and other such equipment manufactured in Canada. The Canadian mills are anxious to serve the Canadian government-first and are at present busy with the home government's orders. They will be busy until December 1 on this. Then, however, they will be able to make stuff for other countries. Through the Textile Association an order for 100,000 blankets, worth probably $300,000, has been placed with Canadian mills for the British government.

Mr. F. Barry Hayes of the Toronto Carpet Company has been negotiating with the Russian government for an order for overcoating. There seems no doubt that big orders will come to Canadians from Russia.

It is understood from other sources that the Russian government has also ordered several million dollars' worth of blankets. This order awaits the acceptance of the Canadian mills. The Italian government is also said to have ordered a million dollars' worth.

Uncanny Sensation as of the Underground Growing of Distant Volcano

The Cologne Gazette publishes the following account by the German anthor, Dr. George Wegner, of the terribe bombardment which preceded the French attack in Champagne:

It is Friday morning. Buring the night we have been hearing the sound of distant gainfre, which in volume and duration exceeded anything experienced since we have been here. Yesterday evening the bombardment was exceptionally lively. Then it died down towards midnight, but about o'clock this morning it starred afresh with the unprecedented intensity typical of a big scale bombardment, with shot following shot in one and broken growl of thunder like the roll of drums.

Defect in Farming System

"Every farm in the United States should be an efficiently organized factory, busy the whole year round," declared Charles Dillon of Topeka, Kan, in an address before the Farmer's National congress at Omaha. He added that the farmer should sell lis products through co-operation with factories. Mr. Dillon declared that the fundamental weakness of the American farm as an economic institution is its failure to give profitable employment to the owner, the hired man and the family throughout the year.

Stocks of absinthe now are being converted into an ingredient for explosives at a co-operative distillery at Pointoise, France, which has been supplying clear alcohol extracted from beet roots to government explosive factories, where it is used in the manufacturing of guncotton.

Bassano Irrigation Convention News

T. M. Tweedie, M. L. A., presi-ent South Alberta Patriotic Fund dent South Alberta Patriotic Fund has been granted 20 minutes on the program of the convention on the opening morning to make a patriotic address.

Every day the names of men prominent in affairs of this pro-vince are being included in the list of those desirous of taking part in the forthcoming convention.

A feature of the opening session will be patriotic songs rendered by well known singers who are volun-teering their services.

There is a possibility that Dr. Sando Elevood Meed of the University of and it California, formerly in charge of All Irrigation for the Government of All Australia, will accept the association's invitation to be present at Bassana and address the convention.

With President James Speak-man and Vice-President S. S. Dun-ham of the United Farmers of Alberta both at the convention the farmers of the province will be well
